

10 HIDDEN HAZARDS IN YOUR HOME

1. CLOGGED DRYER EXHAUST DUCTS, clogged lint is a fire hazard and can easily catch fire.

2. DIRTY CHIMNEYS, can explode in flames from flammable build-up of creosote from wood.

3. MICE DROPPINGS, can transmit the deadly disease known as Hantavirus.

4. WATER HEATERS, higher temperatures can cause accidental burns, especially in young children.

5. LEAD PAINT, old paint can generate lots of lead-tainted dust which is a health hazard.

6. RADON GAS, one out of every 15 homes in the U.S. has high levels of cancer causing Radon gas.

7. BAD DIY WIRING, old electrical wiring, if not installed correctly can be a fire hazard.

8. CARBON MONOXIDE POISONING, carbon monoxide is odorless, colorless , flammable and poisonous.

9. ICICLE BUILDUP ON EAVES, melting icicle's can be a hidden hazard often forgotten about.

10. SQUIRRELS, attic dwelling squirrel's can nibble away at electrical insulation which becomes a fire hazard.